Mark:

1. Correct the mistakes in this letter (noun & articles). (0.25/2.75)

Dear Monique,

We had ^a great trip to the France last weekend. We went to a little hotel that you recommended and it was very pleasant. Food at the hotel wasn't so good, as you warned us, but we strolled down to the city center on Saturday evening and had a lovely meal there. In fact, we ate so much for a dinner that we didn't want a breakfast on Sunday! Thanks again for the advice and information. Now I must unpack and do the washing.

See you soon,

Love, Freda

2. Complete this letter with comparative or superlative forms of the adjectives given. (0.25/03)

Dear Lily,

Well, we've moved at last! When we got here, the flat seemed (1) ... LARGER ... (large) than we remembered, because it was empty, but now it's got our furniture in it, it doesn't feel (2) ... AS SPACIOUS AS ... (spacious) before. We've got to do some decorating, and that will be (3) ... MORE EXPENSIVE THAN ... (expensive) we expected because the walls are in a (4) ... WORSE ... (bad) condition than we thought. But we'll manage somehow, and soon we'll have (5) ... THE SMARTEST ... (smart) house in the town. And if your uncle Bob has his way, we'll have (6) ... THE LOVELIEST ... (lovely) garden as well. We'll also be (7) ... THE POOREST ... (poor) and (8) ... THE MOST EXHAUSTED ... (exhausted) householders in the country, but never mind. We still think moving here is (9) ... THE BEST ... (good) thing we've done for years. We can't imagine now why we didn't do it when we were (10) ... YOUNGER ... (young). Come and see us soon. Catch a train if you can, because it's almost (11) ... AS CHEAP AS ... (cheap) the bus, and the railway station is (12) ... NEARER ... (near) our end of town.

Love from us both,
Antie Rosie
